

FIFTY CONGRESSMEN MORE AS RESULT OF
CENSUS DISCLOSURES*Largest Gains in West and South Are Indicated
Now.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Oct. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—Examination of the final census figures of the country which place the total population of the continental United States at 105,683,108 indicates that the west and the south proportionately will gain more in a political way than the east or middle west through increased membership in the house of representatives, more votes in the electoral college and in larger delegation to the national political conventions.

This result will obtain whatever basis of apportionment is adopted by congress next winter, fixing the size of the next house, which in turn is reflected in the electoral college and the conventions of the big political parties.

Fifty New Seats.
As a result of the increase of 13,710,842 in population during the past ten years, fifty new seats must be added to the house to prevent any state from losing any part of its present representation. Should the present membership of 435 be left unchanged by increasing the basis of apportionment there will have to be a transfer of thirteen seats, now held by twelve states to nine other states.

For the past half a century the precedent has been to increase the size of the house so as to prevent loss of existing representation by any state. As a result, the house has grown from 243 to 435 members, with only three states—Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont—losing one member each in the last fifty years.

Five To California.
If this precedent is followed this year, five additional representatives' seats must be given to California, four each for New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Michigan; three to Illinois and Texas; two to Massachusetts, New Jersey and North Carolina, and one each to Alabama, Arizona, Connecticut, Georgia, Maryland, Montana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, Tennessee, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Virginia, Arkansas and Minnesota.

Congressional leaders are strongly opposed to any large increase in the house as they regard the present membership of 435 as too unwieldy. When the house census committee, headed by Representative Siegel of New York begins consideration of the problem, effort will be made to hold down the increase, but pressure for the increase is expected to come from the states which would benefit from a larger house.

Cox Will Speak in

The governor referred in his address last night at Nashville to Senator Harding's denunciation of the league and expressed a willingness to accept the issue as stated by the republican nominee.

"Now he's against the league; I'm for the league," Gov. Cox declared.

GET EVIDENCE AGAINST TWO
BAD RADICALS*Reds Arrested Thursday Said to Be Dangerous.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Oct. 8.—Discovery of vast amounts of radical literature in the possession of Nicolai John Jazinski, and John Hoelny, declared to be two of the most dangerous radicals in America, who were arrested here last night by agents of the department of justice, was announced today.

In Jazinski's possession was found nearly half a ton of communist articles, including samples of a new pamphlet advocating armed revolution by foreign elements in this country. One hundred thousand of these pamphlets, it was said, were shipped out of Chicago yesterday by Jazinski via the American Express Company. They were traced and are being held by the authorities.

The agents said documents were found in Hoelny's possession which gave evidence that he was associated with a radical Russian anarchist group in America. It was said virtually every anarchist document ever printed in the Russian language was found among his effects. Chief among these, they said, was the proclamation of the union of Russian workers, calling upon all members to rise and overthrow the government of the United States by force of arms, utilizing murder and destruction to gain their ends.

HARDING IS OPPOSED TO GENERAL AMNESTY
POLITICAL PRISONERS*Sees No Difference Between Them and Ordinary Yeggman.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
On Board Senator Harding's Special Train, Oct. 8.—Bearing the standard of republicanism against the political borderland, Senator Harding headed into Missouri today to preach his gospel of representative party government and a foreign policy free from embarrassing entanglements.

An afternoon meeting at St. Joseph and a night address in the Kansas City convention hall were the high spots of the day's program. Besides there were a number of short stops scheduled at smaller cities along the way.

The nominee's voice showed today the strain of yesterday's vigorous campaigning, when he made sixteen speeches in Iowa and Nebraska.

Aside from the hoarseness, however, he seemed in fine trim and declared he was ready to meet as many audiences as could be reached by a fast train schedule.

In his address at Omaha last night Senator Harding declared his conviction against amnesty for political prisoners. He said:

No General Amnesty.
No true American will argue that our laws should not be enforced. I refer to laws, no matter of what nature, whether they be those which deal with the criminal and the misdeed, or those which deal with acts of treason to the United States, threatening to the constitution and the fabric of our social organization. I wish no one to misunderstand me and, therefore, I will say as plainly as I can that for my part I can see no essential differences between ordinary crimes and ordinary criminals on the one hand, and political crimes and political prisoners on the other hand. If there is a distinction, surely it is not a distinction which favors political crimes, or political prisoners. The thief, or any ordinary criminal, is surely less a menace to those things which we all hold dear, than the man or woman who conspires to destroy our American institutions.

I have been asked many times during this campaign whether I will grant general amnesty, as it is called, to political prisoners. My answer, I trust, is clear. I would not. A general grant of amnesty to political prisoners is no more justified than a general grant of amnesty to yeggmen. If there is any distinction between the danger of yeggmen and political conspirators, I believe that most Americans will uphold me when I say it is the political conspirator who is the greater menace to the United States. If there are political prisoners who are being punished unjustly, and who have been punished contrary to our spirit of fair play, I shall want to know it, and I shall want to take immediate action to restore justice to such men and women, precisely as I will wish to give freedom to any man or woman who has been unjustly accused.

LEGION ELEVEN
WILL GET FINAL
WORK ON SUNDAY*C o a c h Dixon Has Strong Team Ready
for First Game.

Coach Sherwood Dixon of the American Legion football eleven of this city announced today that the opening game of the schedule would be played at Brown's Field in this city Sunday afternoon, Oct. 17th. At that time the Legion team will meet the fast Rockford Specials, who claim the city championship of Rockford last year. The Specials are not a new organization by any means and have several stars in their lineup who have had many seasons of experience.

The Legionaires will report Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at the Brown's Field for their final practice and Coach Dixon has urged every member to be present at that time when they will be assigned to their respective positions for the opening game. The new uniforms have been received and the team will present a neat appearance in blue jerseys and stockings.

Need Public Support.

Tickets for the entire season series have been printed and are now on sale at Stratton & Covert's cigar store and at the United Cigar store. They may also be secured from any of the members of the team. The success of the team depends largely upon the support they are given in the advance sale of season tickets.

The fastest organization of local independent football players ever assembled has been perfected by Coach Dixon, and the management has been to considerable expense in equipping the team and getting it in shape for the opening of the season. The season tickets may be secured for a very nominal sum and it is hoped that the citizens will respond to this call and assist the Legion with their patronage.

A very interesting meeting of the Board of directors of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce was held last evening in the offices of Secretary C. D. Kibb at which time a number of vitally important matters were discussed and preliminary action started.

County Supt. L. W. Miller was present before the board and explained the program of the Northwestern Illinois Teachers' convention to be held in Dixon the latter part of this month.

At that time it is expected there will be upward of 1000 teachers and instructors in the city and the co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce is necessary to provide accommodations for the delegates. A committee was appointed, consisting of A. W. Leland, A. P. Armstrong, E. E. Wingert and W. C. McWethy, who will immediately start a movement to provide rooms and eating places for the visitors. An automobile ride to points of interest in and about the city will be a feature of the convention.

For U. S. W. V. Convention
Department Commander Fred Brown of Sterling and Lester Street and D. E. Helmick, representing the Spanish-American War veterans were present and explained the plans for the 1921 convention of Illinois veterans to be held in this city next June. The directors assured them the co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce in making this gathering a success and assuring entertainment for the visiting delegates.

Captain E. J. Decker, Lieutenant Murphy and Attorney John Erwin, representing Co. F, were heard by the board, each of the speakers talking in favor of taking some immediate action which would assure the maintenance of a unit in Dixon as a member of the federalized militia. They explained some of the reasons that enlistments are not coming in and discussed the benefits to be derived by maintaining such an organization in Dixon. A committee consisting of Attorney John Erwin, W. C. McWethy and A. P. Armstrong was named to plan which would insure the organization of such a unit in Dixon.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Harry S. McCartney, Chicago attorney, carried to the supreme court today his efforts to compel Secretary Colby to promulgate the joint peace resolution passed by congress last May and vetoed by the president.

Declaring that "vital public interests required the early as possible consideration of the question involved," Mr. McCartney filed a petition for a writ of certiorari asking that the case be taken from the District of Columbia court of appeals where it is pending.

The case reached the court of appeals from the district supreme court which last July dismissed McCartney's petition for mandamus to compel Secretary Colby to promulgate the resolution.

Nelson Youth Hurt
in Fall Wednesday

Sidney Buckaloo, son of Supervisor and Mrs. C. C. Buckaloo of Nelson township, is confined to his home for several days as the result of a fall Wednesday evening about 5 o'clock from the top of a chute adjoining a silo. The lad fell several feet, his right leg striking on one of the doors of the silo and tearing the flesh.

The wound was several inches in length and penetrated deep into the flesh. That he did not sustain a more serious injury is accountable for in his retaining his presence of mind and attempting to catch hold of something which would lessen the force of the fall. The young man is 14 years of age and a member of the freshman class at the Dixon high school.

Brooklyn Favorites.

That section of the sporting world which backs up its views with cash today seemed to be inclined to share Brooklyn's feeling of optimism, for the odds switched, making the National leaguers a two to one favorite.

The popular "pastime here today, wherever dyed-in-the-wool fans gathered, was to guess who the rival managers would pitch in tomorrow's fray. The general guess was that Cosslek, who pitched the Indians to victory in the initial game, would be on the mound for Cleveland. These grandstand and bleacherite experts figured that Robinson might pitch either Marquard or Pfeffer.

Tomorrow, at Cleveland.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Cleveland, O., Oct. 8.—A big ovation awaited the Cleveland Indians' when they alighted from the train which brought them from Brooklyn today, despite their two defeats at the hands of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the world's series there. The two teams will open a four game series here tomorrow.

In a proclamation issued by Mayor W. S. Fitzgerald yesterday, he called upon all Clevelanders to do honor to their team.

"They will win the series if Cleveland backs them as it backed them in the pennant fight," the proclamation read. "I ask that Cleveland show in every way possible its appreciation."

That the fans have not lost interest in the series is indicated by the number of applications for tickets to the games and admittance to the roofs of houses and buildings in the vicinity of League Park. Unlike Brooklyn there are no knolls for those unable to get into the park. However, property owners were swamped with offers ranging from $1 to 25 for roof standing room.

Clerks of downtown hotels were endeavoring to classify their lists of reservations for tomorrow and Sunday, but some of the larger ones are turning away applicants.

Reports that scalpers were again at work selling world's series tickets caused renewed precautions to be taken by the police and officials of the Cleveland baseball club today.

Through plans made by E. S. Barnard, business manager of the local club, there can be no "scalping" on the bleacher tickets. Only one will be sold to each person when the gates open tomorrow morning and the holder must pass immediately into the grounds.

Last Liverpool, Ohio, fans have arranged a banquet for October 20 in honor of Harry (Dix) Myers, Brooklyn outfielder, who is a native of that town, when he will be presented with a gift.

ROBINS CONFIDENT.
En Route With The Dodgers, Oct. 8.—(By The Associated Press.)—It was a happy and confident lot of Brooklyn Dodgers that were hitting the trail westward today to attack the Cleveland Indians on their own reservation for world's series honors. There was not a man on the whole Brooklyn club who did not firmly believe that the series was as good as won. Manager Robinson would not say who will pitch for Brooklyn Saturday, but the players think Jeff Pfeffer will be the man.

Leon Cadore, Brooklyn's right hander, who will probably pitch Sunday's game, says that club morale won the pennant for Brooklyn and it will win the world's series. Cadore is one of the closest students of baseball on the Dodgers.

"Never mind that psychology stuff," said "Rowdy" Elliott, the Dodger catcher. "All we have got to do is to hit the ball on the nose."

Dodgers Have Edge.
The Dodgers have decided "edge" on the series to date—two victories and one defeat. In the three games, Brooklyn has batted for a team average of .299 and held .384.

The Ohioans have a batting average of .165 and have fielded at .332.

Tris Speaker and his tribe, however, confidently and emphatically expressed their opinion that the series would be on even terms again after tomorrow's encounter.

Manager Robinson's proteges, flushed with their two successive victories, had confidence that nothing—not even the handicap of playing on foreign soil—could stop them in their dash for the highest honors in the national game.

That section of the sporting world which backs up its views with cash today seemed to be inclined to share Brooklyn's feeling of optimism, for the odds switched, making the National leaguers a two to one favorite.

The popular "pastime here today, wherever dyed-in-the-wool fans gathered, was to guess who the rival managers would pitch in tomorrow's fray. Today's Market Repor

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)

Grain Prices Took Another Fall Today

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, Oct. 8.—New breaks in the value of wheat took place today in connection with assertions that country offerings in the southwest were heavy. Slowness of export demand counted also as a depressing factor. Opening quotations which varied from 12 1/2 to 1 3/4 advance with Dec. 13 1/2 to 1 5/8 and March were followed by sharp downturns all around. Corn sympathized with wheat weakness. After opening unchanged to 1/2c lower, including Dec. at 86 1/2 to 86 3/4, the market continued to sag. Oats were heavily affected by the action of other grain, starting 1/2c to 3/4c off, Dec. 55 1/2 to 55 3/4 and keeping on the downgrade.

Higher quotations on hogs had only a transient stimulative influence on provisions, being more than counterbalanced by the break in cereals. Subsequently, the wheat market was further weakened by word that export interests were heavy sellers at Winnipeg and that Minneapolis was buying Canadian wheat. Late advices about country offerings in the southwest were conflicting. The close was unsettled 4 1/2c to 5 1/2c net lower, with Dec. 1.33 1/2 to 1.34 and March 1.30 1/2 to 1.31.

Dec. corn delivery sold at the lowest point yet on the crop. The close was nervous, 1 1/2c to 4 1/2c net lower with Dec. 84 1/2 to 84 3/4.

M. E. W. F. M. S.—

(Contributed)

A very pleasant and profitable meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church was held Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Fred Overstreet. The day was most perfect and the attendance large. This was the first meeting of the year and the new president, Mrs. Hobbs was in the chair.

We had with us two of our district officers, Mrs. Van Sant of Sterling District President, and Mrs. Greeley, of DeKalb. District Corresponding Secretary. One of the pleasing features of the afternoon was the splendid talk of Mrs. Van Sant. Very much of her talk was concerning the District Convention which will be held in Dixon Oct. 21 and 22 and we are looking forward to one of the best conventions in the history of our society. From the outline of the program as Mrs. Van Sant gave it, there will be speakers of prominence with us throughout the convention. The young people, too, will have part in the program. Mrs. Van Sant urged the women to lay aside every household duty, possible and attend; and the necessity of being here at the opening of the convention. Not to let anything come in the way to keep any one away. Mrs. E. E. Wingert the retiring president had the devotion. Reports of the year's work were given which showed a gain in membership and finances, and throughout the district Dixon auxiliary stands first in nearly all lines of work. But may we not be content with that. May it only spur us on to a better work in the year that is before us. Mrs. A. D. George and Miss Louise Scott favored with vocal solos, graciously responding to encores.

At the close of the meeting the ladies were invited into the dining room where light refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY—

Nine couples called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Reed Wednesday evening and reminded them that it was their 20th wedding anniversary. Although taken completely by surprise they made their guests welcome. It was a merry occasion from the moment of their arrival for the guests had planned an evening of novel entertainment.

During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Reed were asked to come forward, while Mrs. L. E. Edwards sang, "On Promise Me." Then as Mrs. Grover played the wedding march the couple preceded by their son, Robert, a flower bearer, marched forward. A most witty ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Lumsden. After the customary congratulations, Mrs. H. W. Leydig recited one of Mr. Dewey's humor selections, "Short Marriage Contracts." Mr. E. E. Wingert in behalf of the company and in a very appropriate manner presented the couple with a beautiful set of china cups, saucers and luncheon plates. Mr. and Mrs. Reed cleverly responded to his remarks with words of gratitude for this expression of friendship. Delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. The guests departed hoping that Mr. and Mrs. Reed might live to repeat this occasion.

Those participating in this happy event were Messrs. and Mesdames Lumsden, Wingert, Ives, Gullion, Edwards, Wohnke, Grover, Ahrens and Leydig.

E. R. B. CLASS MET—

The E. R. B. class of St. Paul's Lutheran church held a very pleasant meeting last evening at the W. E. White home, 806 Galena avenue. The meeting opened with scripture reading by the president, Mrs. Lillian Leitz, and prayer by the teacher, Bert Robinson. After the routine business was transacted, Rev. Lloyd W. Walter gave a very interesting talk on Missions. The meeting closed by repeating the Lord's prayer. During the social hour which followed Miss Helen White, in her most charming manner, favored with several piano solos. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants, Mrs. Gonneman, Mrs. McKnight and Miss Mary Olson. The next meeting will be held at the home of the Misses Iva and Evelyn Mensch.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE—

George LeFevre was greatly surprised last evening when he returned home from work at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Reigle to find forty of his friends waiting to greet him, the occasion being his birthday. The evening was spent with music and games until a late hour when all were invited to the dining room where dainty refreshments were served. A birthday cake with lighted candles formed the center piece.

CUTTING PARTY—

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pope and daughter Velma of Polo motored to Dixon Saturday to spend Sunday with his mother, Mrs. L. C. Pope of 510 N. Chusa avenue and early Sunday morning they all went to the home of Samuel Bennett where a scramble dinner was enjoyed. The afternoon was spent in waltzing under the guidance of Avery Buzzard and about 30 bushels were gathered.

W. R. C. TO MEET—

The Woman's Relief Corps will hold their regular meeting at G. A. R. hall, Monday afternoon. As this is the last regular meeting before the district convention, Oct. 25th, it is hoped as many as possible both officers and members will be present.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. McNamara, nee Helen Tribou, will return from their wedding trip tomorrow and will spend a few days with her parents before going to their home in Oklahoma.

BLACK SHEEP

Baseball is the most fortunate of professions. All the crooked men in it are to be hunted down and driven out.

Truly, baseball is entitled to the envy of other business and professions. What a great social benefit it would be if every business and profession could as easily as organized baseball rid itself of black sheep.

If the lawyers could get together and drive all the shysters out of the midst; and if the doctors could throw the quacks and mal-practitioners out their ranks; and if business men could ostracize the sharpers, the profiteers and the speculators; and if editors could cast dishonest men out of their honorable profession—then some one might have a better right than any one now has to throw the first stone at baseball as an institution.

Baseball is not crooked because there are some crooks in it. Nor is any other profession or business crooked because it may harbor some crooked men. Rather, it is the credit of baseball that it honors a code that does not brook for long the dishonorable player.

The clean-up will not hurt baseball,
but help it. The public's great interest in the present revelations reflects the wholesome American ideal "to play the game square." In all relations of life. The crooked man and the trickster in business and the professions may be flourishing as of yore, but he is having a harder time getting
by with his trade.

ALMOST HOPELESS

At the national convention of the Service Star Legion a resolution was passed advocating sensible dress for women.

There is room for improvement.
Short skirts do not always enhance the beauty of the wearer. In fact, in some instances, close observers say, they reveal what might as well have been concealed.

Vivid cheek color, they insist, often clashes violently with the still more vivid color on lips. It is an inspiration, they assert, to meet a girl who doesn't mince along because it's supposed to be fashionable; who doesn't slouch because the fashion illustrations do.

They like the girl whose clear skin radiates health, and whose stride is free and swinging. She wears neat blouses and a natty suit and never do her frocks rival a spider's web in transparency. She does not look like the display window of a jewelry shop
nor is her hair done up in a fashion that looks suspiciously like that employed by the women of the South Sea islands.

The Service Star League women mean all right. Doubtless there is much reason for their crusade, but they are going at it wrong. They cannot hope to accomplish much by passing good resolutions—not as long as their sons and brothers persist in their admiration of the up-to-the-latestfashion girl.

One good squeal deserves another,
said the ball players when they heard Clotie's confession.

The fatted calf will grow up to be a cow even if the former crown prince does not return home.

A wise old antiquarian says the
have man had no domestic animals.
Not even a cootie?

The Pilgrim celebrators are having more trouble than the original bunch had 300 years ago.

terial; especially fecal bacteria, including the germs of typhoid fever.

Those who eat raw oysters will do well not to express a preference for plump, white oysters, but to ask rather for lean gray oysters, having a good salty flavor.

SELF-CONSCIOUSNESS.

Q—I would like to know if there is any cure for a blotchy skin, as at the least bit of excitement my face goes red and blotchy, especially about the eyes. It seems to be a steady thing every day about mid-day or at night, and is very annoying to a young man.

A.—You are probably entirely too self-conscious. Perhaps, you do not get enough fresh air and exercise.
Why not join a local Y. M. C. A. gymnasium class and get the benefit of cold showers and the swimming pool.

QUINSY.

Q.—Please give me all the information you can of the disease known as quinsy, if there is such a disease. I am getting where it is hard for me to eat on account of not being able to swallow any food. It seems as if the passage in my throat is closing up.

A.—In quinsy there is an acute inflammation of the throat, resulting in the formation of a sac of pus, usually behind the tonsil. The condition is readily relieved by opening the sac and draining out the pus. This of course, can only be done by an experienced physician. From your letter, however, it is not at all clear that you are suffering from quinsy, and I would urge you to consult a physician at once to find out the cause of your trouble.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Burton

CHEWING GUM.

Markie Muskrat had a bank on the mantel-self upstairs, a fat tin fish that swallowed pennies, and when his mother refused to give him a cent for chewing-gum, he got to thinking of it and about the last time he had dropped in a penny. If he remembered rightly, the penny had stuck and hadn't gone the whole way into the fish's mouth, and he had run away and left it sticking. Now wasn't he glad,

UP HE SLIPPED TO THE BEDROOM-SHELF, TIPPED UP HIS FISH-
BANK AND OUT POPPED MR. PENNY.

though, that he'd let it alone. All he had to do was to stand the fish on its head and out would roll the penny as nice as pie.

Up he slipped to the bedroom-shelf, tipped up Mr. Chub, as he called his fish-bank, and out popped Mr. Penny.
The he flew to the store, bought a stick of crawfish chewing-gum, and got to school just as the bell rang to come to order, panting and perspiring,
but happy as a king.

Then, as you know, the visitors arrived, the school board, with wise old

Mr. Owl at their head, and Markie's troubles began. There he was with a wad of chewing-gum in his mouth, and five extra pairs of sharp eyes to watch him. For although Scribble Scratch, the fairy schoolmaster, was very keen of sight, with his big specs
'n everything, he just couldn't see everybody do every little thing all the time, even with Nancy to help—Nick, too, sometimes. But those other! He'd have stuck the chewing-gum inside his desk, only there wasn't any inside to it, just an outside, for the desks in Meadow Grove school were all stones, you know, the seats, too,

for that matter.

Markie rolled his gun into his cheek
and sat still, managing pretty well when it came his turn to answer a question. But when they started to sing and march—oh, my! He didn't know what to do.

THE BOOK OF ANN.

I STRIKE A NEW CLUE TOWARD
FINDING THE ONE WHO SHOT
IVES.

I halted the car at a street car while Morrison bought a bunch of evening papers. On page one of each was a new set of pictures of women who had given information to the police or to the prosecutor. Most of those interrogated that day had been employees in Ives' establishment. All of them made charming newspaper "art."

By the time we reached her house,
Ann had stopped sobbing. We left her after she had exacted from me a promise to return to dine and to stay
all night.

To my surprise, Morrison entered
my own house with me.

"Just a minute more of your time,
Mrs. Lorimer," he said, "It's about Bob I want to talk."

"That awful little man down in the prosecutor's office?" I cried.

"Exactly," said Morrison. "We've got to satisfy him."

Never did I, Jane Lorimer, expect to confide to any human being any story about my quarrels with my husband! But before I knew it, I had detailed to Morrison, in a mad rush of words, the entire account of my late domestic unpleasantness. I even showed him the letter Bob had left on my desk.

Morrison handed it back to me with:
"Destroy it, Mrs. Bob."

"Why?"

He ran a finger along one line of it.

I read:

"That brute, Ives, ought to be shot,
and some one will do it, some day."

It was incriminating stuff—at-though only a mere comment. Nevertheless I burned the letter.

"It's a shame—a blamed shame—to let you in for all this," said Morrison,
"but you can see that I have got to prove to the big guy down town that Bob had a perfectly proper reason for being away from home all night before the murder and for getting out of town immediately afterward."

"It's far easier to talk to you about it than to any one else, Mr. Morrison.
And now—will you call off your men?
You said they encircled the place, you know."

"Where's your phone?" he asked.

While Morrison phoned, I picked up the papers. The information about Ives gleaned by the police that day didn't seem to be very important, but the "art" was certainly a big find.

Most of the women employed in Ives' decorating business were even more decorative than his stock. The head dresses were a corking good picture. Minetta Briggs was a forceful person, one could see from her face, a woman who possessed remarkable executive qualities. She was merely the the load in the gun. Now I must go—"

"Wait! It wasn't a society woman who shot Ives. Too afraid of scandal.
Too much to part with. In a woman case, look for the one who had nothing to lose, one who who has sacrificed everything for the sake of a lover.
That's woman-psychology, Mr. Morrison."

"I picked up the paper and shower
him the picture of Minetta Briggs."

"A woman like that—"

"Might have fired the gun!" Morrison finished his sentence.

"The man made love to pretty women only; it isn't likely that he misses this chance. He was too wise to flirt with the head seamstress in his own shop. Very respectable place, was his establishment. But look at this picture—impulsive, primitive, and jealous!"

"By George!" exclaimed Morrison.

"By George! I intended to call on the old man" (meaning Daddy Lorimer).

"But—can you drive me down town at once, Mrs. Lorimer? You've hit it, my dear child. I'll bet my record on it."

OYSTERS.

This is the season when oysters
again come largely into use. A word of caution may, therefore, not be out of place.

Oyster growers have found that a large part of the public prefers what is known as "fat" oyster, and this preference has accordingly been met by the dealers by "fattening" the oysters after taking them from the beds.
This "fattening," however, is not only a humbling, but constitutes a source of danger.

As a matter of fact, the process is not a "fattening" one at all. It consists in floating oysters for a time in brackish water. Having been grown in sea water, the oysters when placed in brackish water, i. e., water having a different specific gravity, absorb water and become plump and white.

Their appearance is improved.

Unfortunately, the brackish streams in which the oysters are "floated" are not infrequently polluted with sewage,
and so it happens that in this "fattening" process the oysters take up considerable amounts of polluted ma-

Looking better is often only a matter of dressing better.
Dressing better need not mean dressing more expensively.

Dressing well is a question of style, tailoring, painstaking workmanship, fabric.

The highest expression of these features is found in

Society Brand Clothes

For Young Men and Men Who Stay Young

In style, master designers keep them the leaders of America. The tailoring cannot be excelled, for it is done by hand by experienced craftsmen. Fabrics are all-wool and are selected for wearing qualities as well as for the quality of the wool.

We can't control clothing prices—but we have done this for our community:

THE success of this store, for the past ten years in Dixon, has brought with it a certain obligation which we feel toward every member of this community. Why? Because all of you have had a part in building our success; because many of you depend on us for your clothing. We feel this obligation, and accept the responsibility. We are more than glad when an opportunity such as exists at present, makes it possible for us to perform, in part at least, this duty we owe you all.

Since the first of the year we have planned on doing the very thing we are announcing now. Last spring, with clothing prices soaring, we did NOT buy our stock of fall clothing; a customary practice with retail clothiers. A recession in price has come--our fall clothing stock is here--but PURCHASED WITHIN THE LAST FEW WEEKS, at price concessions that we are passing on to you.

We have searched through the principle clothing markets, looking for the right quality of clothes that we could offer you at prices that we felt we owed it to you to secure. Our plan was right and we succeeded. The clothing is in stock now at prices we can conscientiously recommend to our community; suits for men, boys and young men; overcoats, in a score of handsome styles. This is all high grade merchandise, handsomely trimmed, guaranteed fabrics, and made in the newest single and double breasted models.

Clothing prices have advanced gradually and steadily for five years. People realize that price recessions also, will be gradual, if the quality is maintained. You want good clothing at lower prices—we have it here for you. Reductions in clothing prices are now in effect at our stores to the full extent that recent price concessions permit and warrant.

This is the bare outline of our plan of six months ago—we have succeeded in making it a money-saving reality for our customers. We'll tell you more in a few days—details, prices, etc.

Another attractive feature is the use of chimes, both in instrumental selections and as an accompaniment in singing, particularly in such songs as the "Anvil Chorus" from "Trovatore," and the "Tinkers' Chorus" from "Robin Hood." This company takes its name from a group of songs from "The Chimes of Normandy." The attractions are booked through the Century Bureau of Chicago.

HARDING IS OPPOSED TO GENERAL AMNESTY POLITICAL PRISONERS

cases of ordinary crime. In particular cases there may be special reasons for leniency.

Flabby Sentimentality.
None of us can deny that in emergencies, of which war is one, there is an unusual pressure for the conviction and punishment of men and women who appear to be thwarting our joint efforts in such an emergency, or who menace our institutions. But these are cases which must be examined, each upon its merits. Only flabby sentimentality or a deliberate desire to make lax our punishment of those who conspire against us, can be heard to say that any group of convicted men and women can be dealt with in an outburst of wholesale forgiveness. Amnesty for prisoners, whether they be political prisoners or common prisoners, is a matter for humane consideration, applied only for the purpose of correcting wrongs which have been done during a time of stress.

Just as I am clearly understood when I say that I make no distinction between political and other crimes, I trust that I will be equally well understood when I say that we owe it to all those whom we have punished to call upon our wisdom, our tolerance, and our humanity, to deal with their special cases.

Many persons have fallen into errors in regard to the practice of deportation of undesirable aliens. On the one hand are those who believe that deportations constitute an offense against the spirit of American freedom, and on the other are those who would hasten to deport as many aliens as possible against whom they happen to have a fierce prejudice. In my attempt to arrive at a true position, I have been unable to find myself in agreement with either of these two points of view. I would like to make those persons who are opposed to any deportations of aliens see that if we may fairly and justly stop the undesirable alien as he attempts to enter our country, so also we have the right to lead him forth and lend him away when he has become a menace to our country after his entry into it.

Share a Resentment.

We must all surely share a resentment, sometimes intense, against the alien who seeks hospitality and the opportunities of America, only to turn about and sting the bosom which has warmed him. Granted the facts of that treachery, my position is clear, and let no one misunderstand it. The treacherous alien within our borders must be led to our gateways and told to go.

These are the principles in regard to political amnesty and deportation upon which we must act. Unless we act upon them, our foundations become as swaying quicksands beneath the structure of our national life.

Unfortunately, however, our consideration must go forward from those of law to those of fact. Perhaps more tragic than offense against our laws are the offenses of injustice and of oppression which occur occasionally by the acts of those who are sincere or hasty in the enforcement of our laws. We would be blind if we did not recognize that great numbers of Americans believe that they have seen within the last few years grave injustice done, and harsh, violent and unlawful oppression undertaken under the mask of enforcing law and order. They have seen too much terrorism. I trust that I will be understood when I say that I stand against terrorism and abuse and brutality, and that I, like all other true Americans, will not assent to it, approve of it, or, so far as I am capable, tolerate its continuance.

When I say that I am against terrorism, I am on the side once more of law and order. Not only are police frightfulness, and night-stick brutality, and third-degree oppression, unlawful in themselves, but I know of nothing which can so destroy the love which America must in the end awaken in the hearts of those who may learn to understand her.

Here in America, taking counsel together, we shall declare ourselves against Czarism, against short-sighted intolerance, and against the folly of attempting to suppress the free thoughts of men and women. And, with equal certainty, we declare ourselves against weak indulgence of the tiny minority which desires to thrust its will upon the majority. We are against autocracy of force and violence, whether it be that of a monarch, or that of a minority. We will declare, with unflinching determination, that we will bring to task those who betray America because they love her too little, for we love America too much to let them go unchallenged and unpunished.

Plan Prevention of Manipulation Live Stock Prices

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Oct. 8.—Representatives of all farmers' organizations in the middle west met here today, and announced that they would request monthly statistics of visible domestic and world supply of livestock from the national bureau of crop estimates and markets. This measure, they said would aid in the prevention of the manipulation of prices.

Representatives of various farmers' organizations who are attending the meeting were also asked to consider the possibility of the establishment of farmers' co-operative commission firms at stock yards.

Plans for Memorial for Pershing Made

Chicago, Oct. 8.—Plans for a memorial to General John J. Pershing were announced here today. The memorial would take the form of an arch similar to the Arc de Triumpe in Paris, and would be constructed on the lake front at the head of a fifteen mile highway to bear the general's name. A statue of the general at the base of the arch is also called for in the plans.

The road, to be called "Pershing Road" would comprise what is now Thirty-ninth street and would extend from Michigan Avenue to the Des Plaines river.

Tentative plans call for the raising of funds for the memorial by popular subscription.

Mrs. Fred Fuiten is Among the Latest to Reap Remarkable Benefits from Tanlac.

"I am so glad that I found Tanlac when I did, for since taking it my whole system has been so benefited that I am feeling like a different woman," said Mrs. Fred Fuiten, of 910 West Locust St., Bloomington, Ill.

"When I started taking Tanlac I was in a badly weakened state, owing to the after-effects of the 'flu.' My stomach was out of order, I couldn't eat a thing without suffering pain and distress, and I was continually having bilious attacks. My nerves were in a frightful state, I couldn't sleep at night and I never felt equal to any thing. I became very low-spirited, for, although I had tried the best treatment and medicines that I could obtain, nothing seemed to do me any good.

"One of the men down at the works told my husband how much good Tanlac had done him, and he bought me a bottle. Before I had gotten through with that first bottle I was feeling much better, and now I am feeling fine in every way. I am hungry all the time. I never have the slightest trouble with indigestion, or biliousness, my nerves are now quiet and steady and I sleep like a child at night. I don't believe I ever felt better than I do today and I think Tanlac is a grand medicine for overcoming the bad after-effects of the 'flu.' Tanlac is sold in Dixon by the Public Drug & Book Co., and by the leading druggist in every town.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have roaring, buzzing noises in your ears, are getting hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parment (double strength), and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoon four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal trouble of the ears, is hard of hearing or has head noises should give this prescription a trial.

WHAT'S NEWS TODAY?
Drawings by GROVETightens Lid on Booze in New York

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, Oct. 7.—In an effort to check illegal liquor sales Prohibition Commissioner Kramer has ordered withdrawal of whiskey from bond temporarily suspended in New York City and parts of Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Mr. Kramer disclosed today that the ban had been on for a month and that he had received a request from A. L. Dalrymple, district prohibition agent, at Chicago, for an order of similar nature to be placed in effect in the Chicago district. He says he had not yet determined on a policy for that section.

The effect of the order on illicit sales of whiskey has been undeniably great, the commissioner said. He added, however, that it had failed with respect to alcohol, withdrawal of which could not be suspended because of its use for industrial purposes.

The commissioner indicated that the order probably would be withdrawn soon.

LEMON JUICE FOR FRECKLES

Girls! Make beauty lotion for a few cents—Try it!

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and you have freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and rosy-white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless and never irritates.

Boudoir talks with Sybel on how cocoa butter will reduce a double chin

I've always worried about acquiring a double chin. What woman doesn't? But Sybel laughed at me when I poured my worry into her willing ears!

"A double chin! It's perfectly foolish to worry about it when a little care will prevent it. A double chin is really fatty, under-nourished tissue. Don't feel hurt when I tell you that it comes with self-indulgence and neglect."

"We must nourish the tissues if we would remain fair and twenty all our lives. Why wait until we notice a tendency to that dreadful bag-behind-a-double chin—when an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure?"

"I rub my chin as I do my face, applying tiny dots to open the pores; then I dab on Coco-Bloom, my cocoa butter cream, which is rich in stearine butter—the most wonderful skin food the medical world can recommend as well as other ingredients of merit. It gives strength to the tissues and firmness to the skin."

"I rub my chin gently using a rotary motion, and when the Coco-Bloom is thoroughly absorbed, I tap it with the ends of my fingers. This treatment gives nourishment to the tissues, stimulates them, at the same time breaks down the surplus fat. Then I use face hot then cold applications, with witch hazel as an astringent."

"Remember, Coco-Bloom is once better even, and it supplies exactly what is needed to make your skin healthy."

Said 10 cents to the Coco-Bloom, Laboratories, Cleveland, O., for sample and instructions booklet "The Bloom of a Perfect Skin," or purchase a 75c jar today on any one of the following:
